

When Harris Wishnatzki came to the U.S. as a young immigrant, I don't think he could have envisioned the impact his legacy would have over a century later. He was a kind man and giving back was ingrained in his character. He followed the golden rule and helped anyone who needed it.

To honor that tradition, we formed the Wish Farms Family Foundation. By giving back and sharing that noble passion with our children and grandchildren, we can leave the world a better place than when we found it.

With a mission to help children and families in need, we envision an America with no hunger, education for all and strong community ties. We will donate our time, resources and knowledge to cultivate positive change and support causes that promote those efforts.

Wish Farms and our family of growers are dedicated to making a difference, because everyone deserves to eat healthy and be happy.

Sincerely,

The Wishnatzki Family
